Hello Barry Kalinski,

The Lakeland Centre for FASD is a non-profit and registered charity serving northeast Alberta since 2000. Our mission is to ensure that accurate information, prevention strategies, diagnosis, and support services for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD) are accessible throughout the Lakeland Region. We envision a region with no new FASD births and where individuals with FASD are fully supported. Our strategic goals include ensuring diagnostic access across the lifespan, providing culturally responsive interventions services, supporting women at risk, increasing public and professional awareness, and building collaborative, evidence-based practices. Through strong leadership, community partnerships, and a commitment to equity, we strive to improve lifelong outcomes for individuals and families impacted by FASD.

I am reaching out to community members to meet with them to discuss the Lakeland Centre for FASD as we celebrate our 25 Anniversary this year on what we have accomplished through the years in supporting individuals with FASD. Please let me know if you would be interested in meeting with me to see how we could work together and shape the future for individuals with FASD.

Sincerely,

Michele Huszar

Dear Barry Kalinski,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to bring your attention to the invaluable work being done by the Lakeland Centre for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder in providing essential services to individuals and families affected by FASD in our community.

The Lakeland Centre for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (LCFASD) is a registered not-for-profit society and charity of Canada. The LCFASD has offices throughout northeast Alberta and is committed to providing the highest quality services to people with FASD, including their families, schools, employers and community agencies.

Since 2000, LCFASD has been providing prevention, diagnostic and intervention services across the lifespan to children and adults prenatally exposed to alcohol; recent studies show that 4% of Albertans have FASD.

To continue our mission and make a lasting difference, we need the support of individuals like you. Your contribution can help us to deliver valuable programming to individuals with FASD and their families. Your support not only helps us today but also contributes to a brighter and more compassionate future.

I understand that there are numerous causes vying for your attention, therefore I would like to setup an appointment to share information about LCFASD with you and how we can work together to make a difference in the lives of individuals with FASD. LCFASD will continue to support individuals throughout their lifespan, and we hope that you will join us on this journey, creating a brighter future for individuals with FASD.

To book a time to meet with me, please use this link Book time with Michele Huszar. I look forward to meeting you and hearing how we can work together.

Warm Regards,

Michele Huszar
